

BBG Quattro Gold Documentation

June 14 to June 17, 2014

Greg Rice - IBA # 382

Mike,

Here is my documentation for the BBG Quattro Gold ride. This was a hell of a ride and a lot of fun! I was planning this ride for over two years waiting on you to get you to say yes. ☺

I really appreciate you giving me the opportunity to attempt this ride and approving it as an IBA certified ride. I knew it was doable and that I would not even think about attempting the ride if I thought it was out of my abilities.

Physically this was a damn hard ride and definitely harder than the two BBG Trifecta's I had previously ridden. I think I had one more BBG in me and if I wanted to attempt more I am not sure the Gold Wing would be the best choice. I do like proving to everyone that a Gold Wing can kick some butt and is a good platform for LD riding. I know of many who have switched to a wing based on what I have done on gold Wings.

The first two BBG's of this ride were harder than the second two. I think I did not start out with enough rest and I had a hard time getting to sleep the night after the first BBG. After that I was in the groove and felt pretty good on the next two BBG's.

It was damn hot on the second, third and fourth BBG's, around 105 during the day. The wind was extreme on the last BBG crossing New Mexico and Arizona on I-40 as it was blowing 40+ MPH. I only had a little rain on the first BBG and the rest of the time it was dry.

I think these four BBG's get me to 25 total certified BBG's. I left my Gold Wing out west and plan to ride a BBG 3000 to get it back home.

I will be doing a ride report soon now that I am feeling better. Tim took notes along the way and I am going to use them to help remember specific details about the ride.

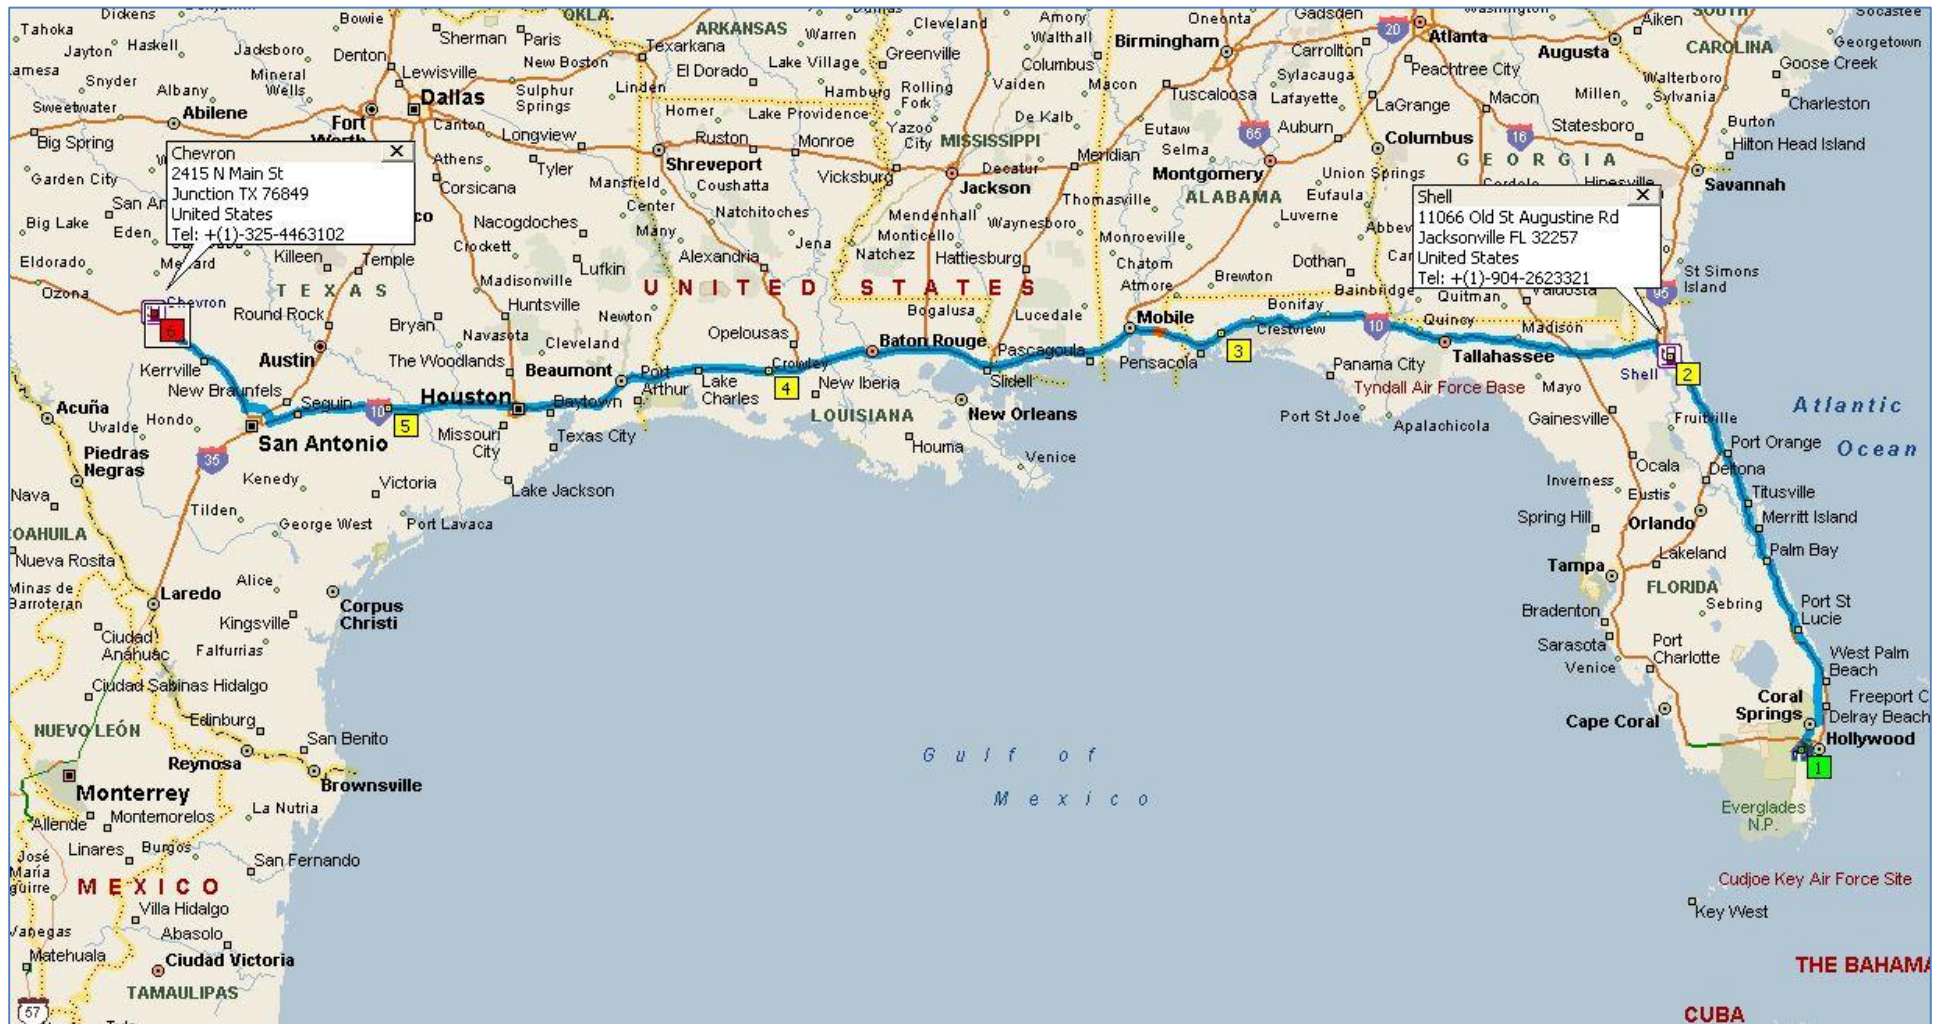

Thanks for everything you do Mike for the LD community.

Below is images of all four BBG's documentation, route map, spot tracking map, ride log, receipts and witness form.

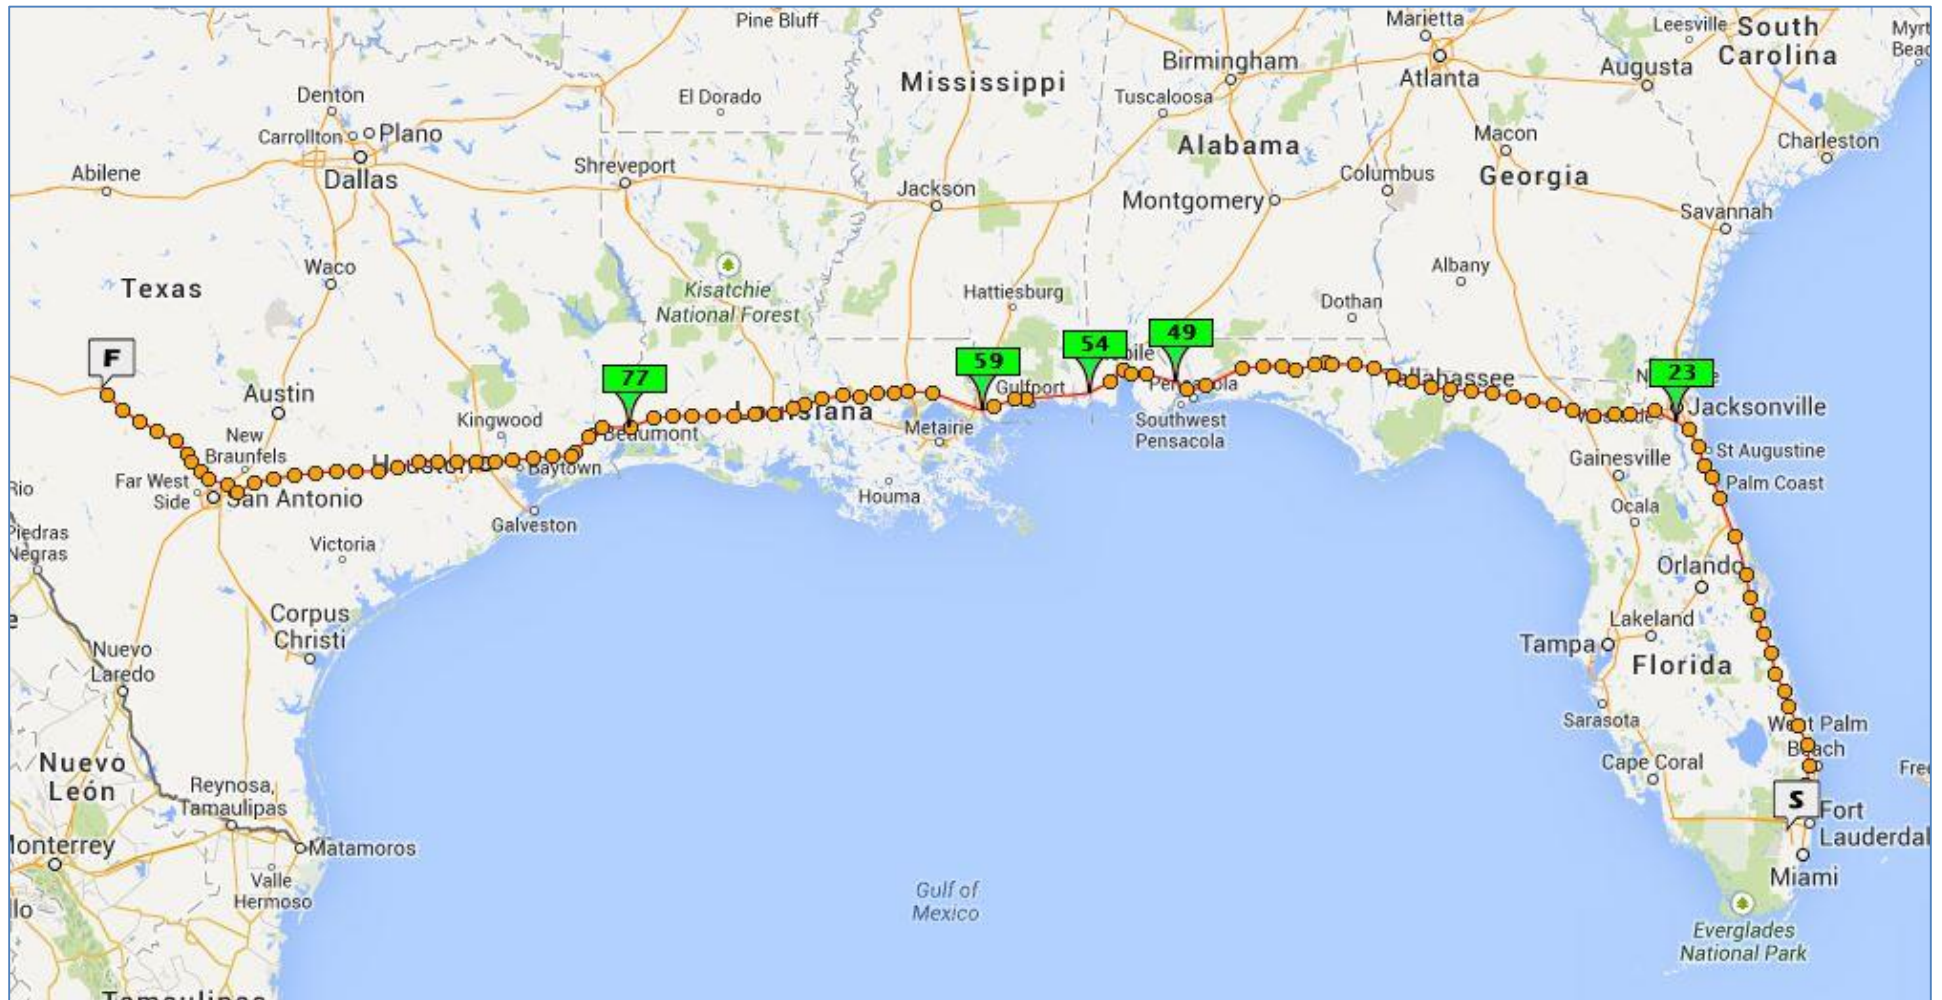

After that on page 22 is a spot tracking map for the complete ride.

Then on page 23 is the ride application form.
